RECRUITMENT ANNOUNCEMENT: DIRECTOR OF ENGAGEMENT

Public Scholarship and Engagement (PSE), a unit of the UC Davis Office of Provost and Executive Vice Chancellor, is recruiting a Director of Engagement (DE) to help build the collective capacity for scholarly excellence of the UC Davis community and increase the university’s impact and visibility through mutually-beneficial relationships that have local, regional, statewide, and global reach.

The DE is an Academic Coordinator that will serve in a leadership role to administer, develop, and evaluate academic programs with a broad, interdisciplinary scope related to public scholarship and engagement at the university. This service will be provided to colleges and schools; academic departments; organized research units; faculty, staff, and students; and to the general public.

The DE will be working in this new university wide unit as part of the leadership team to build PSE’s capacity. This will include the creation of new engagement programs, and the development of new positions, recruitment, and management of a staff team of engagement coordinators.

The DE will have extensive involvement in fundraising and the oversight of programmatic funds for Public Scholarship and Engagement. The DE will report directly to the Vice Provost of Public Scholarship.

Academic Coordinators are appointees who administer academic programs that provide service closely related to the teaching or research mission of the university. Individuals in an Academic Coordinator title who are assigned research or instructional duties are required to hold a dual title.

Public Scholarship and Engagement (PSE) expands the reach and impact of research, teaching, and learning to serve the public and advance the common good.

UC Davis is a nationally ranked top-10 public university with a Medical Center ranked nationally in 15 specialties.
